

DEVIALET

INGÉNIERIE ACOUSTIQUE DE FRANCE

THE FUTURE SOUNDS BRILLIANT

Devialet is an acoustic engineering technology company, whose goal is to bring high-fidelity sound to the many. Devialet is committed to evolving its technology and product design, without any compromise on sound quality, until everyone can access and enjoy Devialet in every moment of their life.

Devialet intentionally designs and engineers all of its own hardware and software in France, reducing innovation to manufacture cycles and maintaining high quality standards.

THE BREAKTHROUGH

More than a decade ago, co-founder Pierre-Emmanuel Calmel invented ADH® Intelligence (Analog Digital Hybrid) technology, a combination of analog and digital amplification, translating into unprecedented sound quality. This was the first innovation breakthrough for Devialet, and it revolutionized the sound industry. Along with co-founders Quentin Sannié and Emmanuel Nardin, the journey towards ultimate sound began.

Devialet is still developing additional proprietary technologies, like SAM® processing (for getting the most out of each speaker), HBI® (to reproduce infra-bass in small volume), SPACE™ (for immersion) and more every year.

Thus, Devialet is one of the most critically-acclaimed audio companies, holding more than 160 patents and more than 80 awards.

THE EXPERIENCE

Devialet technologies seamlessly blend together to produce exceptional sound.

The result is a truly exceptional sound that over-delivers on all scores: a disproportionately high performance-density ratio; zero background noise, distortion or saturation, however loud the volume; implosive bass you feel with your whole body, details in recordings never heard before, delivering all of an artist's intentions.

At Devialet we are raising the standards of sound quality and redefining the listening experience. Emotion comes through, unspoiled.
